Knight Avante Unveils Industry-First SOFT Outdoor Play System

Over the past several years, soft-foam children's play areas have proven themselves as a popular, traffic-generating addition to the enclosed shopping center. Recently, however, the outdoor shopping center has become the clear retail "wave" of the future.

Up until now, owners and developers of lifestyle, main street and mixed-use centers have had little or no options when it came to children's outdoor play areas.

Working with the needs of its outdoor customers in mind, Knight Avante has developed an industry-first materials technology that allows soft-foam elements to withstand the severe stresses of an outdoor location.

This new "Play Tough" technology allows Knight Avante customers to design a custom outdoor play area to match almost any theme imaginable. Shoppers have become used to these fun, family-centered amenities and can now expect to enjoy them at new outdoor centers too.

Outdoor Play Areas Highlight Variety, Innovation & Flexibility

In an outdoor "lifestyle" or "main street" setting, the traditional enclosed play area can be replicated outdoors with a classy arrangement of outdoor benches, planters, vegetation, or decorative walls, all surrounding a specified play space.

By contrast, however, an outside play area need not have boundaries at all! Individual play elements can be whimsically placed on various grassy areas or public spaces throughout the center.

In reality, the possibilities are endless. Individual soft-foam play pieces could be only one part of your overall family entertainment package.
